Morganfield Wants a Commercial Club at Once

And Our Organization is Used as an Illustration

By the Morganfield Sun to Prove What Good May be Accomplished By Such a Body.

Union county should have an organization similar to the Crittenden County Commercial Club, and Morganfield must have one.

The development of our county, and especially of Morganfield, depends largely upon the united efforts of the people. In commercial and industrial development, as in political, concerted action is absolutely essential.

The success of a private enterprise is dependent upon the united action of those employed, and the success of a community depends upon the united action of the people interested.

In Crittenden county, a commercial club has been organized. It is an incorporated company, with a capital of $100,000, divided into shares of $100 each. It has different standing committees, whose duties are to investigate all grievances, propose legislation, and private enterprises and to give publicity to the advantages offered by that county. The club has been intelligently organized and purposes to do its work systematically.

Can any one doubt the commercial advantage this will be to the development of our section?

For years and years, Fayetteville, Ind., though a city of 20,000 or 30,000, drifted along in almost stagnant water. About two years ago the Business Men's Association of that city began active and systematic work, and to-day, generally, in that direction you may find ten well-run new factories and other industries.

Such will be the result here if the citizens of Morganfield will organize and unite their efforts along intelligent and substantial lines.

At the recent banquet given by the Crittenden County Commercial Club it was agreed that the development of Crittenden county means in no small degree the development of Union. Crittenden has the lead, line and spirit, Union has the coal. Without coal the citizens of Crittenden can not be given to mourning.

Union county is one of the poorest coal fields in the world. To-day considerable activity in the development of our coal resources is being met with united effort the development would be much more rapid.

It is for this reason that we should like to see a county organization formed, but whether we have a county club or not, Morganfield should and must have a commercial organization.

Procrastination is the thief of time, and we can see no good reason for postponing until next month what may be just as well done this. We therefore suggest that Mayor Blue, or someone else, call a meeting of our citizens at once and let the first steps be taken toward a permanent organization.—Morganfield Sun.

Rev. R. Y. Thomas Dead.

Monday morning Rev. R. Y. Thomas died at his home in this city of erysipelas.

He was eighty-one years old and a native of Warren county and was born near Bowling Green during the first quarter of the nineteenth century.

He is survived by a widow to whom he had been married over fifty years, and four children—Mrs. O. M. James, wife of Congressman Ollie James; Mrs. W. N. Rochester, of Marion; R. Y. Thomas, Jr., of Central City, Ky.; and Mrs. Solo Hackett, of Laverne, Ky.

Rev. Thomas was the oldest minister save one in the Conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, south, of which he was for many years a faithful servant. He also served in the late Civil War, first in 56th Kentucky Mounted Infantry and then in the new 17th Kentucky Mounted Infantry, filling the office of chaplain. He was widely known throughout the State and no man ever lived home and country better than he did. His departure from the walks of life creates a gap in our citizenship that cannot be filled. Loyal to home, loyal to country, and loyal to church he was a clear type of ideal citizenship.

The funeral was conducted at the family residence Tuesday at 10 o'clock a. m. by Rev. J. R. McFee, local pastor of M. E. Church, and presiding Elder Virgil Edgar, after which the relatives and friends departed for Greenville where the interment took place in Evergreen cemetery Tuesday afternoon.

The widowed wife and mother will break up house keeping and will probably reside with her daughter Mrs. Hackett.

Weather Echoes and Some Others.

EXACTLY.

We have had falling weather.

Old Boreas is giving us a raw deal.

Jupiter Pluvius has recently blessed us.

Never mind the weather, if the wind don't blow.

The names were not tied up, they were simply snowed under.

Before the 15th of March we will have more candidates than snow had mice.

It's Miss Nancy, then it's plain Nancy, then it's old woman—why not be a bachelor maid?

The brick walls of the new addition to the school building, unroofed and unfinished, is a monument to the grim weather.

We have had several samples of weather this week, first, biting sunshine, then snow, then more snow, then sleet, then rain, then sunshine. What next?

A smoking chimney, water dripping in a dishpan from the eaves and a scolding wife is very trying on the nerve centers and either will soon send the poor undertaker to the asylum or penitentiary.

Tradition has it that in the days gone by there were so many water wells on a crooked creek that the water was so worn that it would not heat a feather when it reached the bottom of the place! Oh!

It has often been said there is nothing in a name, yet a certain laundry agent in this city has experienced great trouble for the past week and all because he could not locate a certain debtor supposed to bear the name of Comatz. However, after weary days of inquiry, the debtor was at last located in a certain newspaper office, and—the mystery was solved.

MEETING

Of the Tax Supervisors

Results in Quite an Increase in the Tax List.

Valuation of Town Lots, Mining Property and Farms Raised to the Amount of $202,860.

The board of tax supervisors met last week for the purpose of revising the tax lists as given in to the assessor. The board consisted of A. H. Cardin, chairman, W. A. Woodall, Joel A. Farmer, P. H. Fritts and J. H. Bettis.

These guardians of the welfare of our good commonwealth are not without humor. The chairman, Mr. Alf Cardin, placed his fingers in his boot straps and proceeded to raise himself to the tune of $1,100. Mr. Joel Farmer, under a similar impulse, touched the beam for a $100 raise, and J. H. Bettis followed suit to the tune of $200. W. A. Woodall and P. H. Fritts stood by the declaration made by the assessor.

While some of the unusual raises were mentioned, yet a close analysis of the following figures shows that the unusual interests did not get the last end of the poker by any means.

Town lots were raised $28,800.

Mining property 61,245.

Farms 112,715.

The board adjourned Thursday to meet Jan. 19th and 20th to hear complaints from tax payers who were raised. The board raised 204 farms from $361,715 to $111,500, 109 town lots from $98,070 to $26,930, and 11 mines, leases and mineral tracts from $57,107 to $18,590, making the raises amount to $54 and aggregating $202,860. If these raises should be final the gain in tax would be $1,011.30 to the State and $95.68 to the county.

Sunday at 11 o'clock a very prominent mineral man who has mined a raise from $800 to $8,000 was seen making for the train grip in haste. Whether he returns or not is a question.

Sullenger-Paris.

Tuesday evening at the home of the bride, W. D. Sullenger and Miss Lee Paris were united in marriage, Rev. J. S. Henry officiating. The attendants were T. E. Gress, of Kuttawa, and Miss Minnie Mays, of Hydenburg.

The groom is a lusty and well-to-do farmer and stock raiser, of near Irish, and belongs to one of the best families in the county. He is a brother of Eli Sullenger, with whom he is associated in the farming and stock business and they run their business under the name of Sullenger Brothers.

He is also a brother of County Surveyor J. E. Sullenger, who occupies the city.

The bride is the attractive and accomplished daughter of Mrs. Joel A. Pickett and is considered one of the most charming ladies in the county. She is well known and has a host of friends.

The supper that was served after the ceremony was performed, says the officiating clergyman, was one of the most sumptuous of which I ever had the pleasure of partaking.

Mr. and Mrs. Sullenger will probably reside near the city and Mr. Sullenger will continue in the stock business as heretofore.

When in the city do not fail to call on Woodbridge & Metz to have your hatter work done.

Mrs. N. T. Groves Dead.

Mrs. N. T. Groves, mother of Mrs. Lori Johnson, of this city, died Tuesday morning at the home of the latter where she had been an invalid since she was brought to this city last June by her husband who watched closely by her bedside until the last hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Groves formerly resided at Hawesville where her husband was principal of the graded schools. The deceased had been in bad health for some time and when brought to this city she was taken from the hospital at Owensboro where an operation was performed on her on account of frenal trouble.

Besides the husband and daughter at this place the deceased is survived by another daughter, Mrs. Mamie Lay, of Cass City, Indiana. The body was taken to Tolensport, Ind., where it was interred.

Damage Trial Concluded.

At 4 o'clock Monday afternoon the Mareau damage trial, which has teemed with sensational developments, came to an end, the jury bringing in a verdict for plaintiff against James Hargis and Ed Callahan jointly, for $8,000, and in favor of Alex. Hargis and R. F. French, exonerating them from the alleged conspiracy. The verdict was lighter in amount of damages than was expected, but the exoneration of Senator Hargis was expected. Interest has been intense, and the verdict came as a great relief to the suspense.

The plaintiff will appeal, especially from that portion of the verdict in favor of French and Alex. Hargis. The defendants, Callahan and James Hargis, will also probably take an appeal.

MEMBERS WANTED

Commercial Club Desirous of Adding New Name- to Their List.

We need about thirty names on our roster to fill out the first one hundred.

We could name about thirty men in Marion who would make very desirable members, and add lustre to our crown of success. We could make these names public, but we do not wish to become personal.

When our club's membership comprises about all of the available men in Marion and vicinity, then we shall be able to advance plausible reasons for calling upon residents throughout the county to join our movement and assist in our efforts for progress.

We know that we have the interest and hearty sympathy of these thirty backward Marionites, but their cooperation and support would be of greater value to us and incidentally to the community.

Now, we don't want to use the club as a "big stick" to drive members in, or to force any issue whatsoever, but your endorsement of the club's efforts and purposes by becoming a member is very essential to ensure a full measure of success.

Come to our meetings anyway, they are not "exclusive."

This invitation means YOU.

C. E. WELDON

Responds to the Call to Enter the Race for Re-election.

In this issue of the True Beacon appears the announcement of C. E. Weldon as a candidate for re-election to the office of county court clerk. Mr. Weldon needs no introduction to you by us. As your present official you know him. He is accurate, punctual, capable and an affable gentleman, and fills the office creditably. If he is again made the nominee of the party he will doubtless carry the banner to victory, as he did before. And when he is made the nominee, we will support him all down the line. Following is his letter to the public:

To the Citizens of Crittenden County:

I desire to thank the good people of Crittenden county for electing me to the office of county court clerk three years ago, and while I am very grateful for the favor, I have tried as best I could to attend to the office in a way that would place all who had business with me as clerk, and to the people who have asked me to enter the race again for the nomination, I am doubly grateful, and after carefully considering the matter I have again decided to become a candidate for the nomination of county clerk, subject to the action of the Republican party.

I feel that I am better qualified to serve the people of Crittenden county during the coming four years than I was during the past. Cora Clark to E. H. Newcomb, and if the people see fit to re-elect let in East Marion for $200, and I will take great pride in trying W. S. Graves to Mrs. Emma A. Scott, 125 acres of land, deed of will please the people, and it elected gift.

for another term I promise now that I will be the custodian of records of the office in the true sense of the word as in the past. Again thanking you, I am Very gratefully yours, C. E. WELDON.

Matthews-Cottrell.

P. D. Matthews, formerly of this county but now of St. Louis, came home to spend the holidays with relatives and friends and surprised them by bringing a bride. Mr. Matthews is a Crittenden county product belonging to one of the best families in the county. Three years ago he left here for St. Louis to engage in transfer business and contract work in that line. It was there that he met and fell in love with the mistress of his boarding house, Mrs. Carrie Cottrell. They decided to cast their lots together and started for Kentucky where the matrimonial spirit is easily imbibed especially about Christmas holidays. Being delayed a few days and fearing that this yule tide spirit would be passed from the land of "fast horses and pretty women" before they reached it, they stopped in Evansville and were married there December 28. Mr. Matthews was supposed to return a widower as he went and it is not necessary to say that his friends were not a little surprised to be presented to Mrs. P. D. Matthews, and the groom laughed the big "whaw haw" that we used to hear when Tim was in town.

Deeds Recorded.

Lee E. Travis to J. M. Campbell, 11 1/2 acres on Claylick Creek for $275.

Cora Clark to E. H. Newcomb, and if the people see fit to re-elect let in East Marion for $200, and I will take great pride in trying W. S. Graves to Mrs. Emma A. Scott, 125 acres of land, deed of will please the people, and it elected gift.

A Yellow Dog To Bark Against You

Do you realize that the science of advertising and job printing has expanded and developed to a point where it demands the best thought of some of the best men in business, literature and art?

Do you realize that advertisements cannot be satisfactorily presented to the public unless dressed in the newest and best of modern types, and that no amount of time spent in juggling old type faces can change this fact?

Do you realize that the public is too smart to be fooled, and only the best will command its attention?

The best work goes out only from the best equipped printing offices. We offer you the privilege and it is your opportunity to secure it at that sort of an office.

Every time you send out stationery printed with out-of-date or worn type you send out a yellow dog to bark against you—as long as he barks you will lose business when he bites you will close your doors.

Leading advertisers and business men can obtain results and take no chances by advertising in The Crittenden Record and patronizing its Job Department.

A CALL

For the Republican County Committee to meet at the court house Monday, Feb. 13th, 1935, for the purpose of deciding the time and plan for nominating candidates for the county offices to be voted for at the November election, 1935. All the committee and all Republicans of the county are requested to be present. J. FRANK CHITTENDEN, Clerk.

CARL HENDERSON

A Candidate for Re-election to the Office of County Attorney.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the announcement of Carl Henderson for re-election as county attorney.

Mr. Henderson was born in Grayson county, Kentucky, April 12, 1889, was educated in the schools of his native county, and when he reached his majority he entered the railroad service as telegraph operator, which position he held with credit to himself until he resigned to enter the practice of law. Mr. Henderson was licensed to practice law in Webster county in 1906, and at once began to build a good practice, but ambitions to be as good as the best, he soon entered a law school at Bowling Green, where he graduated with honors. He then located in this city and formed a partnership with Judge J. Bell Kevill, who was then county attorney. This partnership was mutually dissolved when Mr.
Henderson entered the field for county attorney early in 1931.

Mr. Henderson received the nomination of the Republican party in the spring of 1931, and was elected by a handsome majority the following November. He has now served the county three years, and he has been a faithful and efficient official.

Mr. Henderson succeeded in collecting the franchise tax from the Postal Telegraph and Cumberland Telephone Companies in 1931 for five years back, these corporations never having paid any taxes before.

In 1932, when the State tax supervisors raised the property tax percent, Mr. Henderson went to Frankfort under the directions of the fiscal court and succeeded in getting the ten per cent taken off our lists, which saved the taxpayers $1,200, and during the term of his service so far there has never been any one employed to assist in any litigation. He has attended to all the business of the office in every way, and has always been successful.

Should he receive the nomination the Board will give him its heartly support.

The first issue of the new paper, the Livingston Democrat, will make its appearance this week. It will be edited and published at Smith-land by Messrs. W. I. Clark, formerly editor of the Banner, and W.
F. Cowper, the Mayor of that city.
The Democrat promises to be an all round, up-to-date county paper.

JOY.

Aides Jones was given at the home of H. A. Skelton Wednesday evening.

Dr. Davidson came down to day
Saturday.

The death angel visited our neighborhood Friday night and took from our midst Uncle Bob Jameson.
He was not considered to be serious, but his sudden death was a shock to relatives and friends. His remains were interred Sunday at the family graves in the presence of a large congregation of friends and relatives. The Lowry conducted the funeral services.

A pound supper was given at the home of Mrs. Julia Adams Saturday night.

Rev. A. H. Humphrey Dead.

Rev. A. H. Humphrey was born
May 1, 1848, in Sequatchy county, Tennessee and died at his home at Dwightburg, Crittenden county, Ky., at 8 a. m., Monday, November 7, 1934.

Bro. Humphrey was a son of William and Polly Humphrey and moved with his parents from Tennessee when quite a child. He professed religion at the age of 18 at the camp ground near Crittenden Springs and united with the Methodist church at Seaborn.

He was married to Miss L. C.
Chadwick, daughter of Rev. Matthew and Charity Chadwick, August 26, 1869, to which union ten children were born, four sons and six daughters, all of whom except two sons and one daughter have gone on before and are waiting at that beautiful gate to welcome that father who taught them so early in life to love and reverence their blessed Savior.

We would say for the blessed wife and children to weep not for him for his losses their eternal gain.
He has gone to receive that blessed reward which the good Lord has prepared for all his faithful followers and to hear that welcome,
"Well done, thou good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joys of the Lord."

He lived a faithful member of the Methodist church for six years, then joined the United Baptist church and lived a good and faithful member of the same until his death.

Brother Humphrey will not only be missed in his own home but he will be greatly missed in the pulpit and Sabbath School. There his gentle voice will no more be heard in tones of warning.

While so deeply sympathetic to the bereaved wife and children, we would say to those who are left, let him for his sufferings and love, but strive to live so in the future that when the summons comes you can close your eyes and fall asleep in the arms of Jesus and meet the loved one in the sun-bright choirs of glory.

Funeral services were conducted by Bro. Oliver of the Dwightburg church where his remains were laid to rest in the Dwightburg cemetery.

Rest, dear loved one,
Thy troubles are o'er,
Rest, sweetly rest,
On that beautiful shore.

Love-Ainsworth.

Wednesday at the home of the bride near Irina, Miss Emma Ainsworth and A. P. Love were united in marriage.

The groom is the son of Mrs.
Maggie Love, of near Sheridan, and is a young man of good standing and reputation.

The bride is the accomplished daughter of J. W. Ainsworth and is a sister of T. J. Ainsworth, of the Marion Transfer Co., of this city.
The Rev. R. Brown extends congratulations.

R. Whelan and Miss Maple Phelps, spring opens up, Marion will have assisted by a troop of genuine school building of which our citizens, presented the sensational zone can justly feel proud. It will surprise any public school building Walker, which is considered by all held by any city in the State to be one of the leading troups parable with Marion in size. Hats shows on the road, and sparkles off to such a progressive board of with merit from start to finish school trustees!

Urged to Run for County Judge. Walter A. Blackburn, the chief deputy United States Marshal, is considering making the race for county judge of Crittenden county. Mr. Blackburn has not yet decided whether to run for the Republican nomination, but many of his friends have urged him to announce himself and formal petitions have been signed by a large number of citizens of Marion. Mr. Blackburn's home, and in John present, in Crittenden county. Mr. Blackburn has made an admirable official since he has been in the Marshal's office and is one of the most popular Republicans in his home county. — Courier Journal.

SCHOOL IMPROVEMENTS.

Up until the last cold wave the contractors were getting along splendidly on the new addition to the public school building. The walls had but a few hours being completed, then the cold is on and by Feb. 20th, the work will be completed. The trustees are making arrangements for putting in a good system of steam heat, and incidentally the old chapel has been cut in two and the eyes of the students will be greeted by two fine school rooms instead, on next Monday. There will be no more chapel exercises until the school meets in the new auditorium. All in all, when

AT THE OPERA HOUSE

Two Good Companies Play Here During Past Week.

At the Marion Opera House last Friday night The Imperial Stock Company, under the management of George Hamilton, and wife, appeared in "The Shadows of Sin," and on the night following the same company presented "A Ragged Hero" and "Confederates." They gave a good performance each night regardless of the fact that they were so unfortunate as to be without music. Three years ago Mr. Hamilton was here presenting the same bill that they put on the first night of this engagement and is favorably remembered by many of Marion's theatre-goers who will be pleased to know that he has promised to again visit our town next season. The Imperial company has with them John F. Sutherland, of this city, who joined them in St. Louis about five weeks ago, and is doing a "black-bus" part, which he does well. John has many friends here who hope that he may some day become a star. On Wednesday night of this week the patrons of the opera house received a treat, indeed, when Ed

INTELLIGENT PROSPECTING

Address of Capt. T. H. B. Haase Before the Commercial Club on the Night of Dec. 31, 1904.

Mr. Toast Master and Gentlemen: You know I am a very busy man and not much given to speech-making but "Intelligent Mining" is a subject that interests us all, and in it there is a certain fascination that attracts, whether you will or not. The desire of almost all of us is to get rich quickly, and to achieve this end, mining, if not the surest, is probably the speediest. But too often we overlook the most important fact in the rush to gain the desired end by omitting Intelligent Prospecting.

Now, what is Intelligent Prospecting? First, exercise judgment in the selection of the property; next, exercise judgment in locating your prospect shaft, but before sinking, just take the pick and go over yonder and strike a few licks—let's see what we get in the way of a "sign." Then go and do likewise in another place and so the "signs." Don't stop yet, but just keep on and on until "signs" have shown you just where they seem to be the strongest. Then sink your shaft—not a gopher hole, but go down, down and deep. At say fifty feet, cross-cut and notice closely the "signs." No mineral yet, "you say." Well, just go on down another fifty feet and cross-cut again, and don't get discouraged if you do not find lead in one sack, zinc in another and fluorite in a third, and in barrels ready for shipment.

Intelligent Prospecting is a broad subject. You can hardly find two who agree on the same methods. We think the first and most important part is to find out whether your property has a mineral vein crossing it, second, to exercise good judgment in making the location for your prospect shaft. Never sink until you have thoroughly gone over and along what you think is the track of the vein by digging shallow holes deep enough to get below the soil that has been disturbed by the plow. Watch for "signs." By "signs" we mean signs of a different color or any abrupt change, either in color or rock. This may mean something. This is the "sign." It is just like a signpost by the roadside that reads, with a finger pointing "12 miles to Marion." By Intelligent Prospecting we later find another signpost reading "6 miles to Marion." Intelligent Prospecting leads us later to take the rough road to Marion and success.

Letter from Indian Territory.

Marionville, Feb. 1, 1905.—After more than a year's stay in the Territory I will tell you something of this country as I see it.

Marionville is a little more than two years old with a population of a thousand made up by people from Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Texas, Missouri, Arkansas and a few from Illinois and Indiana. Take them as you like, no better can be done than the Smiths and Joneses that you find them in old Kentucky.

The town is situated in the heart of the "Great Western Valley" where the Western wind blows forty miles an hour and the sun falls on the wheat.

be in better shape at the end of the five years than he will be with present conditions, as the land-grabbers will own all and the poor white man and the Indian will own none.

If any of the Readers are anticipating a trip to the wild and woolly west, this is not the place they are looking for. There are a few, hiding, church-going people. There are a few, church-going people. There are a few, church-going people.

Now, Mr. Editor, if this does not find its way into the waste basket, I will tell you something of the politics, or rather the want of politics, of the territory.

WOLF HUNTING IN LAPLAND FINE RAILWAY HOSPITALS.

Animals Are Run Down by Natives on Skis and Dispatched with Spears. Are Being Constructed on Many Roads—Empress of Russia's Train.

The most northern point of Scandinavia or Finland is inhabited by Lapps. They are divided into mountain and field Lapps. The latter live in the valleys and are employed chiefly in agriculture; the former keep to the mountains and they are very wealthy, owing to their immense herds of reindeer, which graze summer and winter in the open.

If the snow is very deep in winter the herds are brought down to the more sheltered valleys. In spite of constant watchfulness they are even there not safe from the invasion of wolves, when hunters drive down to the lowland from the forests.

The mountain Lapps in consequence organize wolf hunts during the winter. They pursue the animals on skis, or snowshoes, and owing to the great speed in which they can get over the frozen snow they soon overtake the flying beasts and kill them. The hunters carry nothing but a short heavy spear, which they drive home with a practiced hand. Only when wounded do the wolves attack their pursuers, otherwise the cowardly brutes seek safety in flight.

WOMEN MORE PUNCTUAL.

When Meetings with Husbands Are Arranged Wives Are Final on the Ground.

Which is the punctual in the least punctual sex? A correspondent who has been making studies in the matter of the Royal Academy arrives at very certain conclusions, and he has given the benefit of them says the London Chronicle. The two benches that flank the door are filled each morning at an even hour, such as 11, with ladies who have arrived any time during the preceding 15 minutes. Their patient eyes are fixed on the clock. For ten minutes nothing occurs. Then one by one men arrive and the waiting women rises with cheerful alacrity to join her delinquent lord. She offers no excuses and he makes no apologies. "We are both punctual," is the first lady's complacent exclamation to the woman who comes a quarter of an hour late, and smiles not in vain, for it is pleasant that her 15 minutes of inactivity is relieved by the assured presence of her expectant man. The last laggard arrives half an hour late. "I thought it better to give you a little grace," says benevolently. And she murmurs "Thanks."

HEAT OF THE PLANETS.

Their Combined Radiation Amounts to Something Considerable in Warmth.

Some 30 years ago Piazzi Smith, director of the Royal observatory at Scotland, succeeded in establishing the approximate amount of heat transmitted to us by our nearest neighbor, the moon, a feat which has since been confirmed by a New York Tribune writer, justly aroused great admiration. According to his measurements, our satellite has heated us with her reflected light like a candle when placed at a distance of 19 feet from the observer. Since then, however, great progress has been made in his direction, and we know that light which some of the farthest stars are sending to our globe and our planet's surface is expected to radiate to our feet.

In earth, the sun's rays are received by the atmosphere, and the heat is distributed to the surface of the globe. The heat is distributed to the surface of the globe. The heat is distributed to the surface of the globe.

Railway hospitals are now being constructed. They are equipped with everything for the comfort of the sick and wounded, every appliance, every device, everything that will in any way bring prompt relief or make easier the transportation of the sick, say Medical Talk.

The first railway hospital ever constructed is now in the far east. The empress of Russia furnished the entire train. The first section consists of 11 ambulance cars, the second section contains two operating cars which are supplied with every adjunct of a modern operating room, disinfectants, instruments, bandages, adjustable operating tables. The interiors of these cars are tiled and can be instantly cleaned.

This hospital train also has a library, chapel, bathrooms, a special electric bath, a Roentgen ray car, dynamo, and a kitchen car from which food will be supplied for all patients. Then there is a dispensary, machinery for making ice, and a water-distilling plant. In fact, nothing has been omitted that would aid in caring for the sick and wounded.

When this train left St. Petersburg for the east there went out with it three doctors and four Sisters of Mercy and three assistants. Besides furnishing the entire train the empress gives $500 monthly to purchase delicacies for the sick.

TAKING IT OUT IN TRADE.

Bath-House Proprietor Who Was a Keen One at Figuring for Himself.

Ex-Mayor Robert A. Van Wack, according to the New York Tribune, said in a talk about success before he went abroad.

Meaning is a positive drawback to financial progress. The other day I took a Turkish bath. The place is not getting on well, and I was not surprised when a rubber told me a story of the meaness of the proprietor.

"The proprietor, seeing the man one day at the bathhouse, where he then worked and taking note of his huge muscles, told him to resign and take a rubber's position with him."

"I'll give you more than you are getting now," he said.

"So the young butcher resigning in good faith turned up the next morning at the bathhouse."

"Well," said the proprietor to him, "I'll put you on at once. What did you get at the butcher's?"

"Six dollars and my week's meat," returned the young man.

"What did the rubber amount to?"

"About three dollars."

"Let me see," said the proprietor, "I offered you more to come here, didn't I? Well, I'll give you six dollars and ten dollars worth of butts weekly. That is a rubber more than you got at your old place."

SCIENCE SET AT NAUGHT.

Ruetic Philosopher Had a Sufficient Proof That the Earth Didn't Turn.

"Don't tell me about the world spinning down every night," said old Cleonow, who relates an old change, did not rise to seize the bait. "I've heard that old story and I've heard that old story and I've heard that old story."

MANAGEMENT & POULTRY

Easiest Way of Increasing Profit is Reduction of Expenses by Scientific Methods.

Many farmers are not aware of the fact that a few simple changes in their poultry management will result in a large increase in their profits. We have a book that will tell you all about it. It is called "The Poultry Book" and it is the best book on the subject that has ever been published. It is written by a man who has been a successful poultry raiser for many years and he has put in it all the secrets of his success. It is a book that every farmer should have. It is a book that will tell you all about the best way to raise poultry and how to make the most of it. NOTICE.

To Taxpayers who have not paid the 1904 Tax:

I have just made my settlement with the State, and will soon be called on to settle with the county for 1904.

The State settlement exhausted the funds on hand, so I am compelled to call on you for your annual remittance. I hope this call will be sufficient and I am sure it will be if you are inclined to treat me right.

You will each receive notice in a few days as to the amount due, and I trust you will feel that it is something important, and something that must be attended to at once.

THIS CARD MEANS YOU--NO ONE ELSE REFERRED TO.

J. W. Lamb, S. C. C.
